

Sunday, November 4

It's already time to think about All Saints' Sunday

Deloris Hanson and other Central members with relatives buried at Fort Snelling gather at the grave of Paul Hanson. Together with a Central pastor these women at the tomb bear witness to the resurrection on All Saint's Sunday, 2006 as they walked from grave to grave.

All Saints Sunday is a day to remember those who have formed us in faith and have been gathered into the life of Christ. They are the sign of our hope and an image of the glory we shall inherit. Even more, they are worshipers with us this day as we sing the praises of the God who brings life out of death.

Morning worship

During morning worship join in acts of remembering those you love who have died. Plan to light a candle in memory of them during the prelude before worship begins. The names of those from our Central family who have died since our last All Saints Sunday will be read out during the singing of "For All the Saints." Throughout October, record other names you wish to remember in our Book of Remembrance placed in the West-side chapel.

Education hour – Funeral planning workshop

Pastor C will repeat his funeral planning workshop on All Saints' Sunday. Pick up a funeral planning worksheet or download it from the Central website.

Cemetery visits

Sunday afternoon Central's pastors are available to make cemetery visits along with Central members for prayer together in celebration of All Saints. Contact the Church Office to join with other Central members and a pastor at the local cemetery where your loved ones are buried.

Evening prayer

Any who have been recently bereaved are specially invited to attend the 7:00 p.m. Evening Prayer service on All Saints Sunday where our prayer will focus on the grief of those whose wounds are still tender and whose sorrow remains close to the surface.

Mark your calendar now for these events the first Sunday in November.
